

Call for Nominations for Editors of China Communications

Overview

The IEEE Communication Society (ComSoc) Technical Committee on Green Communications and Computing (TCGCC) invites nominations for two Editors for the journal China Communications (CHINACOM). CHINACOM (ISSN 1673-5447) is an English-language monthly journal cosponsored by the China Institute of Communications (CIC) and IEEE Communications Society (IEEE ComSoc) towards engineers and IT workers in industry, universities, research and development organizations and government agencies in the field of Information and Communications Technologies (ICTs) all over the world. CHINACOM has been indexed in SCIE (Science Citation Index-Expanded) since January, 2007. In addition, all articles have been available in the IEEE Xplore since January, 2013. CHINACOM has impact factor 2.024 and ranked in JCR Q3.

Please refer to: <http://www.cic-chinacommunications.cn/EN/volumn/home.shtml>

The Scope of CHINACOM

CHINACOM focuses on innovative technical papers and academic thesis pertinent to Information and Communications Technologies sectors. Major columns include: communications theories and systems, signal processing, artificial intelligence, internet, security, emerging technology and applications. Theoretical research papers and academic thesis presenting new techniques, concepts, or analyses, and applied contributions reporting on experiences and experiments are welcome. Innovative papers pertinent to ICTs such as best practices and solutions, lessons learned, case studies, management experiences are also welcome.

Nominee

The nominee must be a member in good standing of the IEEE ComSoc TCGCC, with a background in the field of Communications Systems, Networking, Computing, and Services. Desirable qualities include: solid technical accomplishments, integrity and ethical standards. The duties include promoting the journal, organizing special issues, interaction with authors, initiating and monitoring the review process to its completion, ensuring that the journal follows the journal Policy and Procedures, maintaining the intellectual integrity and timeliness of the journal.

Nominations must include:

- Name of candidate and nominator (self-nominations are acceptable)
- A brief biography of the nominee of no more than one page with: (i) relevant research activities that are directly aligned with the scope of the journal; and (ii) the contributions/involvement in TCGCC
- The candidate's 2-page CV with relevant publication lists, editorial and review, and a list of up to 6-8 keywords that the candidate can handle for CHINACOM
- The elements of the nomination package should be combined as a single PDF file with the nominee's CV appended at the end

Nomination submission

Submission: nominations should be sent to the TCGCC Secretary Prof. Kai Yang (yangkai@ieee.org), and copied TCGCC Chair Prof. Yan Zhang (yanzhang@ieee.org)

Deadline: June 15, 2021

Selection

We will conduct a voting process in the selection committee and then select up to two (2) candidates per the above requirements. TCGCC will send the selected candidates to the EIC of CHINACOM and EIC will make the final decision.